

Cape Commerce

November 20, 2009 2:00 AM

Amanda Converse and Amy DuFault have opened Shift at 535 South St. in Hyannis. The clothing boutique offers organic and sustainably designed women's apparel and accessories by designers from the United States and Canada, organic body care products and perfumes.

Converse and DuFault are also running a public relations, marketing and events firm out of the boutique for sustainable businesses and products under the business name greenover.

For more information on either business, call 508-775-2652 or visit www.shiftboutique.com.

NEW JOBS

Jodi Hinckley of Barnstable has joined the sales team at Strawberry Hill Real Estate in Hyannis.

Hinckley may be contacted at 508-775-8000, ext. 7, or jodihinckley@hotmail.com.

- - -

The Woods Hole Group in Falmouth has added four employees to its staff.

Kaitlyn McCartney is a coastal engineer who recently earned a bachelor's degree in mechanical and ocean engineering from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where she was a research and teaching assistant.

David Bailey is a field technician who was formerly a fisheries observer at A.I.S. Inc. in New Bedford.

Todd Morrison of Falmouth is a senior ocean engineer with more than 25 years of experience, including as the vice president of engineering for Nobska Development. Among his many degrees, he has a doctorate in oceanographic engineering from MIT.

Joseph Famely is a coastal scientist who recently earned a master of environmental management degree from the Yale School of Forestry and Environmental Studies. He worked this past summer as an environmental impact assessment consultant for Hudson River Valley Resorts.

Send submissions to Cape Commerce, Cape Cod Times, 319 Main St., Hyannis, MA 02601 or e-mail them to business@capecodonline.com (include the phrase "Cape Business" in the subject line). Include a contact phone number. Photos may be mailed or e-mailed in jpg form. Call Cindy Carlson with questions, 508-862-1202.

Copyright © Cape Cod Media Group, a division of Ottaway Newspapers, Inc. All Rights Reserved.